From the Chair...

You've just become a part of something.

When Democrats gather from across Clark County for convention, we're not just building a Party, we're forming a movement. As a delegate to our Convention, you're standing alongside lifelong Nevadans and newcomers to our state. You're joining veteran organizers and first-time voters. You're partnering with people from every imaginable background, experience, and identity – all united behind the goal of a better, freer, and fairer future for us all.

As Nevadan Democrats, we know that our strength comes from our diversity. Across the nation, and even here in our own state, we're seeing an unprecedented level of hostility directed against the most vulnerable in our society. In state after state, we've witnessed assaults on the rights of women, the vilification of immigrants seeking a better life, the belittlement of our seniors, and the total disregard for the future of our children. Standing up for what's right is never easy, and the fight against those forces can feel overwhelming. As a part of Clark Dems, you're never standing alone.

What happens in Clark County doesn't stay in Clark County. The direction of our Party determines the direction of Nevada, and as a crucial battleground, the direction of Nevada impacts the direction of the entire country. When we stand together as a Party, bringing our incredible backgrounds behind a single purpose, we have the ability to point our entire nation back to the promise of liberty and justice. We have a better world to build and we can't build it without you.

In Unity,

Chris Roberts
Chair, Clark County Democratic Party
